ONLY THE START

NEW CHALLENGES IN 1974-75

Carnegie South Cricket Club players, members and supporters are all very disappointed and possibly a little frustrated at once again getting so close to a flag but not quite taking off the big one. Season 1973-74 saw the 'Negies' lose only two games for the season to finish at the top of the 'B' Grade ladder before losing the semi-final to C.I.G., a team we beat twice during the year and who eventually went on to win their second flag in succession. However, all the good points far outweigh the disappointment of not winning the title we so richly deserved. For the first time in decades, we fielded a second team which finished only two points outside the finals in their first season - a very promising sign. Our senior team was the strongest in the competition, and with vigorous winter recruiting and the experience gained by our first year players, next season looms as an even greater one for our club. Activities off the field improved monumentally in '73-74, due to the efforts of our newly formed social committee. This committee did a very valuable job in lifting the standard of the club's social calendar and in raising funds for much-needed equipment. With the possibility of this club entering a different association next season, all players and members must be prepared for a bigger, better and more exciting challenge in 1974-75.

INSIDE:

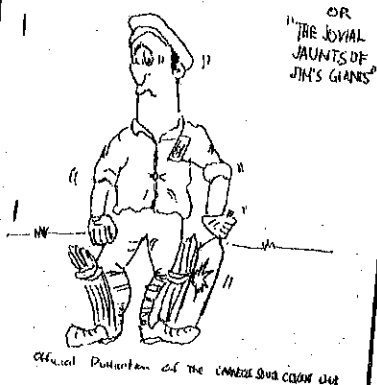

Part 3 of "The One Day Match".

IT'S OFFICIAL

It's now official. Carnegie South will be competing in the City Of Moorabbin Cricket Association in season 1974-75. This was decided at a recent special general meeting of members. The new competition is much larger and probably stronger than what we have been used to in the past. The move will mean less travel as most C.M.C.A. grounds are in the Bentleigh - Moorabbin area. On the subject of grounds, there is a good chance we will have sole use of our home ground at Lord's Reserve for the coming season.

IT'S OUR BIRTHDAY

AT THE GREASE

'At The Crease' has just celebrated its fifth birthday. The first edition of our club magazine was published in March 1969, just as we prepared to enter our second successive finals series. That first issue consisted of 15 pages and was sub-titled "The Jovial Jaunts Of Jim's Giants", referring to Jim Spicer who was the captain at the time. Very few issues were seen in the first few years, but better methods gradually became available and we have seen 14 issues in the last three seasons. I would personally like to thank all those who contributed to ATC, especially Marg McSwain without whose help this season's ATC would not have been possible. With the increasing strength and numbers of our club, I think some form of inter-club communication is a must. However, the continuation of ATC could be under a cloud for 1974-75. I sincerely hope you have enjoyed our magazine during the season and I only hope we can solve our problems and see yet another birthday for "At The Crease".

PUNCHLINE

By Daryl Pitman

WE MUST MOVE

After years of talking about the 'big move', we have finally taken the important step to a new association. I'm sure time will prove it was a wise decision as the City of Moorabbin Cricket Association is a strong, fast-moving body boasting eight senior grades and six junior grades. It is now up to us to prove that Carnegie South can hold its head up high in any competition and gain respect in its new surroundings. The CMCA has a capable administration with a healthy attitude to cricket. We also must have a healthy approach to our game. We must think of the future and that is why I strongly believe our club should start to think seriously about the formation of a junior team. We took giant strides last season with the birth of our second team but we can't afford to stop there. We need a junior team to insure our club of survival. I'm not over-dramatising this fact either. Figures from the Cricket Union of Victoria show that of the many clubs which folded in 1973-74, 100% had NO junior team. Sure, we're going OK now, but what happens if we lost a few players? Where do we find replacements, especially keen young replacements? You'll find most premiership teams run junior sides. If we are interested only in ourselves, then we won't worry, but if we are genuinely interested in our club and its future, then we will start to work and lay the foundations for a junior side for the near future.

Let's get out to work NOW !

Big Al's near-perfect score in GREAT MEDAL WIN

Champion all-rounder Alan Johanson, 21, scored a sensational win in this season's H. Ward Trophy. Alan won the 1973-74 medal, the third since its inauguration, by polling votes on each one of the nine days on which he played (5 games). With a possible perfect score of 27, the left-handed opening batsman and right-handed opening bowler tallied the extraordinary total of 24 votes. Fellow opening bowler, Dave Holt put up a great performance to finish in second place on 19, five ahead of Daryl Pitman. At the conclusion of the counting of the third votes (1's), Dave Holt, Garry Semmens and Peter Jewell shared the lead with 3 each, followed by last year's winner, 'Bomber' McSwain and Max Liddicoat on 2 apiece. After the seconds votes (2's) had been counted, Dave Holt, Peter Jewell and Ron King were the leaders on 7 each, with Daryl Pitman on 5. At this stage Alan was on 3 (1, 2). As Noel Dettman had done the previous two years, Alan polled seven first votes (3's) to take him to his first Ward Medal victory. Dave Holt received four calls to take him to 19. It was the first time Dave had polled votes in a medal count. The previous winners Noel Dettman (1971-72) and 'Bomber' McSwain (1972-73) received 7 and 10 votes respectively. Alan said after the count that it was a shock to win the medal because he had not given himself much chance.

Alan Johanson relaxes after the count.

SOME MEDAL FACTS

The Harold Ward Trophy originated in the 1971-72 season in honour of our long-serving president "Cappy" Ward. The medal is awarded to the "Best Team Player" for the season, votes being awarded by the opposing captain each week on a 3-2-1 basis. Any player winning the medal three times will automatically become a life-member of the club. The three medals decided so far have gone to three different players — Noel Dettman, 'Bomber' McSwain and Alan Johanson. Thirteen players shared 102 votes this season, compared with 12 last season (114 votes) and 11 in 1971-72 (102 votes).

Three of a kind. The two previous Ward medallists, 'Bomber' McSwain and Noel Dettman congratulate Alan Johanson and welcome him to their exclusive "club".

The surprised recipient of a special trophy for dedication to the club was dogged batsman Brian Lyons. Brian, who has played 36 games since joining the club in 1970, received the award for dedication and his club spirit. Daryl Pitman, who presented the award, said Brian thoroughly deserved to receive some sort of reward for his attitude to the game and to the club.

Finals Awards

Ron King and Peter Jewell have taken off this season's special finals' trophies. Ron won the award for the best fieldsman in the semi-final against C.I.G. with his brilliant fielding and returns, one of which resulted in a sensational run-out.

Peter 'Gunky' Jewell won the award for the outstanding performance of the final for his 22, which he scored under very great pressure in a last-ditch effort for victory. Ron King presented Peter with his trophy while Mrs. Nancy Pitman was the donor of Ron's fielding award.

LUCKY 13

Thirteen is usually known as an unlucky number, but not so for wicketkeeper John Ford, who won this season's Second XI catching award with 13 catches. John may have actually taken more than 13 as the score-book was not complete in naming all catch-takers. This was John's first season with Carnegie South and with the experience behind him, he should be a real thorn in the side of opposing teams next season. Above: John was all smiles after the presentation of his trophy by Max Liddicoat.

MUSICAL HOSPITALS

Margaret and 'Bomber' McSwain were playing musical chairs with a twist recently. Bomber spent a few weeks in hospital and returned home just in time to see Marg. off to hospital to have their second baby, a girl, Sharon. Congratulations Bomber and Marg and it's great to see Bomber back on deck again.

Captain's Comment

Well, it happened again!

We proved ourselves the best team in the competition - before the finals! And then it was the same old disappointment, helped along by a lot of bad luck and poor form by myself. However, I was immensely proud and pleased with the season's efforts in general. We lost only three games and won eight, beating every team at least once, a very creditable performance when it is noted that all opposing teams finished higher than us or were in 'A' Grade the previous season. Everyone knows the potentially explosive talent we have at Carnegie South and this season brought only a fraction of that ability to the surface. Players like Peter Jewell, Rob Parker, Dave Oakley, John Ford, Doug Hale and many more have the necessary requirements to lift us to that elusive premiership. Our experienced stalwarts once again gave us everything they had and a flag would have been a just reward for their many years of service with the negies. I cannot say enough about the improvement of our club in general in 1973-74. We fielded two teams and our social committee provided a real shot in the arm for all concerned. Our equipment situation improved about 500% with the purchase of nearly $200 worth of gear. I would like to heartily thank every player who represented Carnegie South this season, and who supported me, Noel and the committee so admirably, especially the newcomers to our club, who launched our second team on its way. Theirs was a fantastic effort, battling against poor equipment early in the season, a bungled draw, lack of experience and constant disruptions and changes to the team.

We may not have captured that flag, but we did lay the foundations of a strong, wealthy, happy, two-team club and with the promise of a new multi-thousand dollar pavillion and possibly the challenge of a new association, we can all look forward to an exciting future for the mighty red-and-blacks.

- Daryl Pitman

Big double for Jo

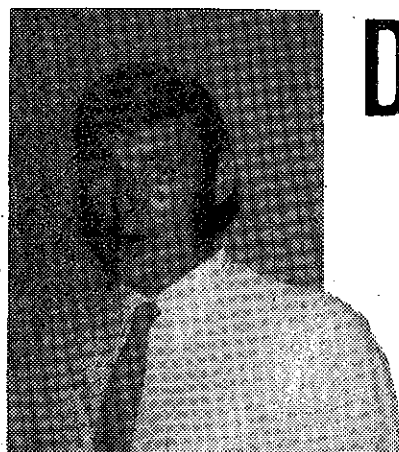

"Cappy" Ward congratulates Alan Johanson on his medal win at the dinner dance.

Burly Alan Johanson completed a great double this year by taking off the Senior bowling average as well as the H. Ward Medal. Alan finished the home-and-away season with an average of 7.4 and a total of 28 wickets. He then took 11 wickets in the semi-final to finish with 38 wickets from only 6 games. Alan has developed into a great all-rounder, evidenced by the fact that he finished the season with a batting average of 61.0 and two centuries to his credit. One of Alan's main assets is his ability to bowl for very long periods and then open the innings with the bat and stay at the crease for a long innings. In his 45 games since joining the club in 1967, Alan has taken 170 wickets at an average of 10.9 and has scored 1522 runs at an average of 23.6.

Tammy goes off

The bowler with the greatest "Ooowizzee" in the southern hemisphere, Tim 'Tammy' Dunbar is going off again! But this time, he's not just appealing, he's really going off - back to New Zealand. Tim has accepted a position as a reporter for the Christchurch Press, which he hopes will lead him to a spot of sportswriting. 'At The Crease' wishes him lots of luck in his new position and hopes to receive some exclusives from him next season.

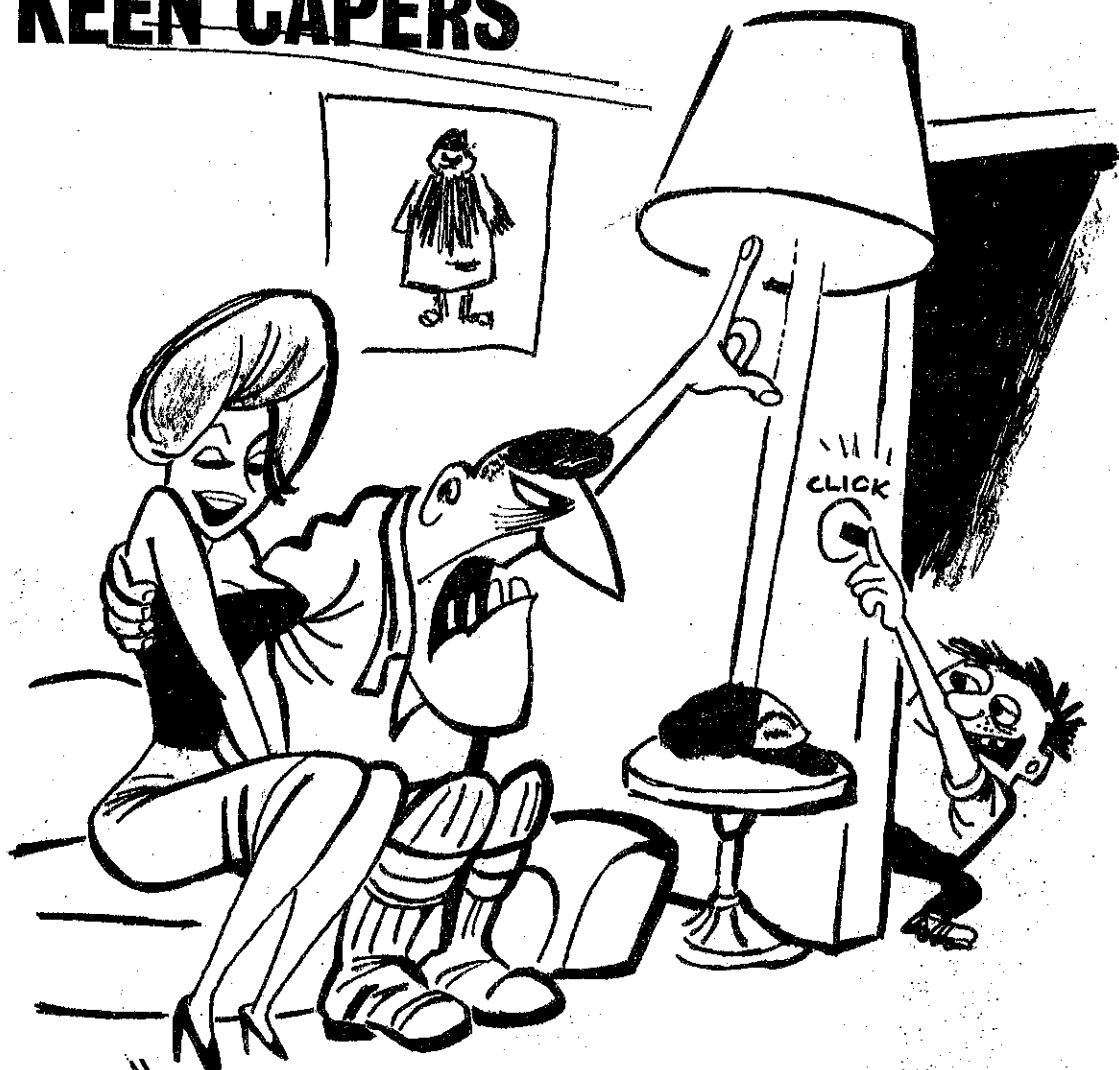

What can you do for your club in 1974-75?

Dangerous Dave's Dashing Debut

Dave Oakley's first season in competitive cricket proved to be a real winner. Dave, known to his teammates as 'Dangerous Dave', was a constant headache to opposing batsmen and completed a great year by taking off the bowling average trophy for the second XI. He captured 35 wickets from only 65 overs for an average of 8.0, a proud achievement in any grade of cricket. Dave is another of our 'secret weapons' for next season and with the experience gained from his great debut, will be even more "dangerous" when next he charges up to the bowling crease.

Gay Gala at the Gables

A BOOMER

Three cheers for our social committee!! After months of planning, our first-ever Presentation Night Dinner Dance was a huge success. Although we didn't get the numbers we anticipated, all who attended had a ball. Doug Hale would have put Bert Newton to shame in his role as M.C., while Garry Semmens whirled around the dance floor like Ginger Rodgers (well, Fred Astaire had short hair). The highlight of the evening came when Topsy Darcy wowed everyone with her powerful voice, later joined by the melodic (?) voice of 'Steel tonsils' O'Mara. "Cappy" reckoned he hadn't enjoyed himself as much since Carnegie South won their last flag — when Ned Kelly was captain. However, the barn dance was seriously marred by Brian Lyons practising his late-cut with his 'Esky' lid, while 'Gunky' Jewell just sat laughing at his mounted tooth. All in all, it was a very enjoyable night, which we hope will be the forerunner of many more such functions.

Sonny and Cher? No, it's Topsy Darcy and Johnny O'Mara with a rousing rendition of "Danny Boy".

Carnegie South has its own streaker! Max Liddicoat was at it again after the dinner dance, although he did cheat a bit by keeping his knee-length shirt on. However, the incident did unearth a certainty for next year's Stawell Gift. We never knew you could move so fast Nancy!

FOR THE RECORD

A total of 31 players represented Carnegie South in the 1973-74 season. The senior team used 23 players, while the second XI used 22 players. The previous best was 21 players in 1962-63 with a lowest figure of 14 in 1960-61 and 1961-62.

New Mown Grass

Three reasons

Seeing this is my last column of the season, I thought I'd continue in my normal modest way. I want to tell you why the world's greatest leg-spin bowler is content to languish in lower-grade cricket.

Marriage: If I didn't play cricket, I could now be a married man with a mortgage and a couple of snotty-nosed kids. Heaven forbid! Anyway, about three years ago I got the closest yet... (shut up Dazza!) to being married. This 18-yr. old chick was of course in love with me - how could any intelligent female not be? However, the noble game of cricket saved me from the jaws of death. Well, to be precise, the cricket played after the game - in the Carlton pub! Anyway, on countless Saturdays I arrived at her place beautifully inebriated to pick her up... always at 9.30 p.m. - 2 hours late exactly every time. After some time (it was a particularly long season that year) our relationship started to deteriorate. I never did understand why - after all, I always turned up .. what's a bloody girl expect these days?

LBW Appeals: Since we stopped fighting the Maoris and I stopped playing Rugby Union, there hasn't been much chance to practice my 'haka' (the Maori war dance before going into battle). So on the odd occasions when Dazza actually condescends to give me a bowl, I use every opportunity to get some much needed practice.

Stewart Island: If I had never played cricket, I would never have been introduced to the greatest drinking game the world has yet come up with. The quickest way known to get drunk on two or three jugs of beer. Anyone interested should ring 267 3015 and arrange the time and place. Measurements should preferably be of the shapely variety but males who are willing to learn - Stewart Island, that is - will be welcome if they are willing to shout a few rounds.

MILE STONES

Veteran pace bowler 'Demon' Dave Holt reached two milestones in the season just completed. Dave played his 50th game in round three and, eight rounds later captured his 150th wicket in the semi-final against C.I.G. Dave joined the club in 1966 from Yarra Falls and has taken his 150 wickets at an average of 13.2.

Champion fieldsman and dogged middle-order batsman Garry Semmens also reached his 50th game for the club during the season. Garry has now played 53 games since joining the club in 1965.

Eagle-eyed opener Johnny O'Mara is the first of the present players to pass the 2,000 run mark. John now has 2,092 runs to his credit, amassed in 79 games since joining us from Caulfield Socials in 1966.

Only three players have played more than 100 innings for Carnegie South. They are Geoff 'Bomber' McSwain (124), Johnny O'Mara (114) and Daryl Pitman (109).

MILE STONES

Noel Dettman narrowly missed passing his third milestone with the club. Noel's last over in the semi-final was his 400th. He has captured 108 wickets at an average of 14.3 from those overs. However, the loss in the semi-final robbed 'The Penguin' of one more milestone. The Grand Final would have been Noel's 50th game with the club since joining us in 1969.

Alan Johanson was also among the wickets with 38 to take him past the 150-wicket mark to a tally of 170.

'Bomber' McSwain has sneaked to within a whisker of being the first bowler among the present players to register a 'century' of maidens. 'Bomber' finished the season with an aggregate of 99 maidens from 939 overs in 90 games.

Daryl Pitman (1773) and Alan Johanson (1522) both passed the 1,500 run mark while Ron King took his aggregate past 1,000 to 1074 scored in 44 games. Daryl has played 75 games and Alan 45.

Around the Wicket

By Bomber McSwain

Season 1973-74 was a great season socially. We managed to buy quite a lot of new gear. And the senior side lost only two home-and-away games! The second XI also had a good season in that they won a number of games to finish just outside the four. Then we come to that final. Because we finished on top, we all said that this was our year. But not so. Our fielding was shocking — we dropped at least eight catches. If not for 'Jo', Peter and Johnny in our batting, God knows how much we would have lost by.

On the good side, a great season by 'Jo' — two tons, 38 wickets and great fielding to give us a lot of strength. Daryl also got two tons and tried his guts out for the whole season. Noel, Ron, Peter, Robby, John and all the boys have done a marvellous job. Not forgetting Dave Holt, who has always been a great bowler for Carnegie South. This year, without doubt, was his greatest year with us.

The seconds, in their first year were great. What a side: they never gave up at any time. Just watch them next year. Dave Oakley's bowling must have been the best in the comp.

Finally I would like to thank the girls and the social club. Without them, we would not have been where we were. Good gear makes a good side, and they certainly got the money for us to purchase this. Also, thank you to my wife, Marg. for her work as secretary and for scoring all the season. Well done, love. That's about all for 73-74. we did not win the flag because we couldn't cope under pressure. I hope we learned a valuable lesson. So until we can cope with the pressure, let's not say "Next year is our year".

We are always very grateful to John Sculley, who never fails to assist the club with a donation. Many thanks to John and also to people such as Fred Holding, Mr. and Mrs. Darcy, Mr and Mrs. Johanson, Mrs Jewell and all other supporters who help our club.

Daryl's year

Captain Daryl Pitman won his first senior batting average when he finished the season with an average of 75.7. Daryl scored 530 runs, including two centuries. He also took off the catching award with 12 catches and the 'Best Clubman' award. A great season was made complete for Daryl when it was announced that the left-hander had won the Association 'B' Grade Batting Average and also the batting aggregate.

OUR TEAM EFFORT

Well, after playing my first season of cricket with Carnegie South, I was very thrilled and happy. Maybe we didn't win the premiership, but I thought we produced a great team effort. With a bit more luck we could have clinched it. I was happy to be associated with the club and will definately be back next season. It's terrific to play and train with players like Noel Dettman, Alan Johanson, Max Liddicoat, Ron King, 'Bomber' and Johnny O'Mara. They have all helped me during the season. And I mustn't forget our great leader Daryl Pitman. He is one of the finest sportsmen I have seen. He is always willing to do his best on and off the field and is a truly great clubman as I'm sure all members will agree. I have missed out on some of the players but everybody contributed to a team effort. I'd just like to mention the support we got from the ladies of the club with the functions they helped to organise and those great afternoon teas. We all know what we have to do this coming season - train harder, support club functions, stick together and that spells SUCCESS.

- Peter 'Cunky' Jewell

After his dinner dance success, Jimmy Walsh has won the title of "The Yellow Duck" among his footy mates, and he thinks it's just ducky.

Some people are 'tinny'. Chris Kallis won the portable gas barbecue in our raffle drawn at the dinner dance and a month later won $22,000 on a TAB quadralla. Good on you Chris.

The

ONE DAY MATCH

Part 3 of a serial written for 'At The Crease' by Robin Lovell.

Dazzling Dazza Pitman was oiling his bat, smoothing the stuff lovingly into the old willow.

The telephone rang.

Daryl, interrupted at his second favourite pastime, was irritated. Lovingly, he placed the bat on its velvet cushion and carefully screwed the top on the oil bottle.

"By golly" he thought, "who could be ringing at this time?"

The Box was about to start.

He picked up the telephone and said hello to it. Cappy was at the other end.

"Daryl" he said, his voice taut as a bowstring.

"Yes" replied Daryl vaguely, thinking still of the smell and the feel of his freshly lubricated ward.

"You want the good news or the bad news first?"

Daryl paused.

"Aw, give us the good."

"Okay. The poms have piked out on the Aussie tour".

A euphoric feeling of release and relief eased through the captain's body. A great weight had been lifted from his mind. He smiled.

"Bloody chickens. Gutless. Not surprised though really. Couldn't have won in a fit."

"Now for the bad" said Cappy, his voice an electronically distorted whisper.

"Aw yeah. Fire away mate. With the One Day Match out of the way no news could be bad news."

"The bastards are sending a World XI" squeaked Cappy.

And there was silence at both ends of the humming wire.

Cappy, Daryl, Gunky, Rob Parker and Jo and the Silver Penguin were slumped gloomily around the club rooms.

"Jeez, I'd love a beer" groaned Noel.

"No grog til after the game", snapped Cappy, jerking the ring out of a tinny.

"It's all right for you" whinged Gunky, "you don't have to play".

"Yeah well" pointed out Daryl "If we're going to have any show at all, we've got to be fit, right?"

Discontented rumbles.

"We never had to be fit for Bill's Bookshop, did we?" complained Jo.

"Don't forget the semi-final" rejoined Daryl.

"And whose bloody fault was that?" jeered Rob.

Daryl carefully examined his fingernails.

"Come on lads" said Cappy, burping and gaining access to another cold and frosty.

"Where's the team spirit? We're in this together remember."

So they all got into it together.

THE ONE DAY MATCH - cont'd ...

At two minutes to eleven, the umpires were rolling on the ground hugging their ribs and giggling like a couple of schoolgirls just returned from a kiss and a cuddle behind the shelter sheds with their form three boyfriends.

Newer in their lives had they been asked to adjudicate such a cricket match.

An interested knot of people clustered around the board where the teams were posted.

NO FUDDY DUD

He's in his 70's, has had serious eye trouble in recent years and is slowing up a little as the years pass by. But does that mean our president, Cappy Ward takes things easy? Not on your life! Cappy still hates to miss a day's work, hates being laid up or inactive and still never misses a meeting. And he's our delegate to the Lord's Reserve Trust to boot. Helping people and cricket are two big interests in Cappy's life. He still regularly raises funds for various charities. His say in the affairs of the Carnegie South Cricket Club is a lot stronger than many people realize. Cappy is the complete gentleman and is respected by all who know him. With him, the generation gap isn't nearly as wide. He doesn't like the idea of "old fuddy duddies" hanging about a club and not contributing anything. He moves with the times and wants anything that will improve the game for young people. He was the first at Carnegie South to urge a move to another association, years before we actually made the move. At social functions Cappy is always to the fore and loves to see the young players enjoying themselves. Anyone who hasn't taken the time to have a good chat over a beer with Cappy is missing out. Our club is fortunate to have a president such as Cappy Ward.

THE ONE DAY MATCH . . . cont'd.

The toss was tossed and Carnegie South didn't win it. The Rest of the World didn't either. The coin stuck on its edge in the mud. So one of the umpires went 'eenie meeny miny mo' with Rohan Kanhai and Daryl Pitman. Out went Pitman and Kanhai elected to bat.

The first ball, Holt to Boycott. Holt doubled his usual run and belted in, ferocious and purposeful. One pace before delivery, he stepped on a bootlace which had come undone and plummeted forward. The cherry, released thus, achieved incredible impetus and, although Boycott defended in his inimitable way, straight-bat fashion, such was the force of the delivery, his bat was flung backwards, splaying his stumps. Boycott was on his way.

Next ball, Holt tried to repeat the accident. However, this time the ball pitched in the middle of the wicket and shot almost vertically into the air. On landing it rolled gently along towards Amiss who sprinted down the wicket. At the apex of Amiss's backswing, Johnny O'Mara snarled "Chewey on yer boot!" and Amiss, non-plussed, swung over the ball which rolled on, brushing the leg stump, creating just enough vibration for one of the bails to yawn and fall lazily to the earth like an autumn leaf.

"Howz bloody Zat?" inquired Carnegie South of the umpire. Holt and the Rest of the World - 2 for 0.

"OK, yer on a hat trick mate" said Daryl to Holtie. "We're relying on you".

Holt smiled grimly, rubbing the ball in his groin.

The next ball Richards landed in the swimming pool. The next he put into the 3c classroom. The one after that, no one knew where it landed, but the umpires decided it must have been a six.

The 73-74 season finished, unfortunately for us, three weeks too early. However, we can draw some consolation from the fact that we did end the home-and-away matches on top, and we did beat every team in our grade at least once, mostly twice. These facts considered, it does mark the arrival of Carnegie South as a power to be reckoned with for many years to come, especially so with the advent of our second XI, which narrowly missed the finals in its first year. Our two teams gave it everything they had week after week, but as usual, in the final analyses, 'Lady Luck', which plays such an important role in the game of cricket, once again deserted us. Still, as they say, there's always next year.

Quacker's Quote

By Brian Lyons

I would just like to say congratulations to Daryl for his great leadership, and also to the selection committee for a terrific job, which at the best of times is a difficult and thankless one. I feel sure that next season we can go on to bigger and better things. See you then.

... Quacker

THE ONE DAY MATCH .. cont'd.

The sixth ball beat both batsman and wicketkeeper and ~~TO~~ ran the easy single. Glen Turner treated the first ball he received with contempt and lofted it straight back over Holt's head for six. The last ball of the over, Holt released a little too soon. It rocketed out of the sun straight at Turner's neck. Just in time,

Turner jerked to one side and the projectile grazed past, snapping the chain which held his tiki in place, slinging the chain and chain onto the bails with enough force to have Turner walking back to the dressing sheds for six. 3 for 25. Carnegie South clustered around Dave, slapping his back and saying "beauty bottler". "Moi goodness, it's the 1961 Brisbane Test all over again" said John Arlott, who'd come to watch for a giggle. "Oi remember that day well. The birds were singing in a bright, blue cloudless sky. The Gabba was a picture . . ."

"Aw, shut up and watch the game" snapped Alan McGilvray.

Barry Richards took three off Gunky Jewells first ball, giving Rohan Kanhai the strike. Kanhai swept the first ball away to where the fence would have been on a real cricket ground for four.

WHAT'S DOING

AT CARNEGIE SOUTH

BY MAGGIE

May I take this opportunity to thank everybody who helped to make the Presentation night Dinner Dance the marvellous success that it was. The portable gas barbecue which was raffled and drawn on the night, was won by Chris Kallis from the East Malvern Football Club. I am sure that everyone will agree with me, that the first Presentation Dinner Dance was one to remember.

And don't forget, we would like to see some more new faces on our social committee in 1974-75.

See you then.

The One Day Match cont'd.

The next was straight back past Jewell, who nearly broke his hand trying to stop it, also for four. The fourth ball of the over was retrieved from the swimming pool by Quacker Lyons, who grumbled that he'd have brought his bloody water wings if he'd known. Kanhai leg-glanced the next ball for a smartly run two. Next ball he got onto with a savage waist-high hook. Unfortunately, it travelled about two feet, terminating in Johnny O'Mara's comic cuts. He doubled over, trapping the ball neatly. Kanhai was out for an entertaining and quick sixteen.

HAIL HALE!

One of the many good things to happen to our club this year was Doug Hale. Doug was a driving force on the social committee and a great clubman, but he proved to be more than that when he took off the batting average for our second team. A very big-hitter, Doug played competitive cricket for the first time this season and adapted himself very well. With a season's experience behind him, there is no doubt that Doug will strengthen the club even more next season.

"Jeez", wheezed O'Mara. "What the bloody hell happened?"

"You caught him mate", said Daryl.

"A man must be mad . . ." groaned Johnny.

"Well, you will field at silly mid on", laughed Garry Semmens.

"It's not silly, it's bloody stupid!" said O'Mara. TROW 4 for 44.

Gunky had two balls left in the over.

He'd noticed that Richards had a tendency to anticipate a run on each ball. Craftily, Gunky kept an eye on Richards while running up. Sure enough, the South African was well out of his crease when he heard the bails go and Gunky sniggering.

"I say" said Richards, "That's not very sporting".

"No" sneered Gunky. "But you're bloody out though."

Richards muttered all the way to the pavillion.

While Tony Greig was striding out to the wicket, Knott went through a series of his warm-up exercises. At the bottom end of one of his squats, something mysterious happened to his back and he was stuck there. The sight of him, waddling in a squatting position while balancing himself with his bat was more than somewhat hilarious.

The One Day Match . . . cont'd.

He looked like a giant white duck punting across a sea of green. 5 for 44 and Knott retired hurt. Richard Hadlee joined Greig. The rest of the World were well into their tail, their backs to the proverbial wall. Gunky paced back for the final ball of the over. The delivery was lofted over long on, dropping just short of the boundary for four. The field changed over and Hadlee prepared to face Demon Dave Holt. His first ball was glanced away to leg for two. His second was belted back past him for three. Holt's third ball was so wide that any normal man would have been happy just to take the extra run. But the lanky Greig stepped across, slashed at the ball like a drunken Stackpole and got a very fine edge. The ball shot 40 ft. into the air and fell easily into the wicketkeeper's cupped glove. Greig out for 4. TROW 6-54. John Snow took 4 off each remaining ball of Holt's over. Daryl thought he'd give Alan Johanson next bowl. Alan took the ball, polished it briskly in his groin and started his run-up. Hadlee snicked it away for an easy single but cheekily, the batsmen went for a fast second. The ball was miles away and they should have made it all right. But on a pre-arranged signal, Dazzling Dazza and Jo both yelled "Go Back!" surprised, Hadlee and Snow both looked over their shoulder in a reflex action. Consequently, they collided in mid-wicket and fell stunned. The ball was tossed back to Alan, who removed the bails at his end and casually threw the ball to Daryl who did the same at his end. Then they sportingly went and helped the batsmen up, saying "Oh bad luck old chap," and consoling things like that. Bishen Bedi and Tim Dunbar (ex home town hero) took their places at the crease. Bedi to face Johanson. First ball out for two. Second ball snicked over slips for two. 8 for 79.

ENGAGED

Alan Johanson and Anne Crawford have gone and done it! They announced their engagement on March 30. Alan met Anne at Helen and Daryl Pitmans' wedding and a romance blossomed through the P.M.G. as they wrote to each other while Alan was completing his second year working for the Commonwealth Bank in New Guinea. They are a great couple and all at Carnegie South join together to wish them a very happy future together.

The One Day Match cont'd.

The next ball, Bedi swung at so hard, hitting it front and centre to fly for at least six, his turban fell off and removed the bails.

"Sorry, but yer out" said the umpy.

"Bloody show pony", muttered Cappy. "Who does he think he is, Joe Solomon".

Well, that was it. The Rest of the World was out for 79, Tim Dunbar carrying his bat for 0 as usual. The telexes clacked out their message in the capitals of a stunned cricket world. Carnegie South has removed one of the best sides around for 79.

Could they score 80?

The answer in the next exciting episode of The One Day Match.
